Cheese Factories.

These mountains of Western North Carolina are furnishing a climatic combination that is proving ideal for the manufacture of cheese, and four factories have been organized in the counties of Alleghany, Ashe and Watauga. Cheese had been made during the past season that is quite equal to that made in New York and Wisconsin. The high altitude, good springs and abundant pastures give conditions that are favorable for cheese making.—State Bulletin Bureau Publicity.

North Carolina Farms.

In 1914 the crop producing power of the farms of North Carolina was $3.84 greater than the average of the county-at-large, and greater than everyone of the rich prairie states of the middle west. Five years ago there were 2,891 renters who are now land owners; farmers who have been tenants and are now land owners, 102. About 57.7 per cent of the farmers of the state own their own homes.

Number of acres of land improved or brought into cultivation by means of drainage, 45,730 acres.

Number of acres of new land brought into cultivation during the past twelve months, 32,837 acres.—Bulletin State Publicity Bureau.

Forest Fires.

According to information which was brought to Asheville last night serious forest fires are raging on Mount Mitchell, Grandfather mountain and in the Brushies. It is stated that a heavy snow fell in that section last Friday night and it was hoped by those living there that the fires would be checked but it is stated that the snow did not stop the fire.—Asheville Times.

101,208,315

Present Population and it is Increasing at Rate of 4,435 a Day.

Washington Dispatch.

Census Bureau experts estimated today that the population of the United States on January 1 last was 101,208,315, and that by July 1 next it would be 102,017,302. On July 1 last year they figured the population at 100,399,318. Western States have led in growth, Washington heading the list, with Oklahoma, Nevada, North Dakota, and New Mexico following in the order named.

The bureau's estimates are based on the rate of increase between the 1900 and 1910 census.

The population of New York State will be 10,273,375 on July 1 next according to the estimate. The bureau gives the following estimates for the State: July 1, 1915, 10,086,568; January 1, 1916, 10,179,971; July 1, 1916, 10,273,375.

Based on the average annual increase in New York State between 1900 and 1910, it is assumed that the increase in population is 93,403 every six months. According to this computation, the population of the State will be 10,927,203 on January 1, 1920.

It is estimated by the bureau that there is an increase of 808,997 in the population of the United States every six months or an annual increase of 1,617,994. The census estimates is that the population of the country is increasing at the rate of 4,435 a day—184 every hour and 3 1-15 persons every minute.

GIVES BLOOD FOR BROTHER.

Raleigh, March 4.—Desperately ill following an enfeebled condition of more than a year's standing, John C. Drewry, many years grand secretary of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons, and widely known business man, underwent an operation for transfusion of blood being made by his brother W. S. Drewry has been failing rapidly for several weeks and there is little hope for recovery.

FLAG RETURNED

New Orleans, March 4.—A Confederate flag, supposed to have been taken from the city hall in 1863 by troops under General Benjamin F. Butler, was returned today by Frank Lieberlich, election commissioner of Boston. An engraved letter expressing the hope that all the United States are united in the face of the European crisis, accompanied the flag. After a formal acceptance by the city commission, the flag will be turned over to the Daughters of the Confederacy.

ECONOMY IN OIL.

Two big liners, the Finland and the Kronland, are being changed from coal burners to oil burners. Each boat is expected to save $5,000 annually in the cost of fuel as a result of the changes, besides a saving of $15,500 a year in the wages of stokers. By the removal of the coal bunkers enough additional space and cargo tonnage will be gained to permit the carrying of 1,500 tons additional freight, which means an extra profit of $20,000 in freight tolls on every trip when the ship carries a full cargo. These figures show why the use of oil as a steamship fuel is becoming more and more general.

Burns and Byron.

Burns was a better man than Byron, although Byron has, in all probability, been painted blacker than he really was. Byron, at heart, was a pessimist and cynic, while Burns, though in no sense a "believer" in the "orthodox" theology of his day, was well grounded in the conviction that the world and mankind were fundamentally good and were worth loving and working for.—Chicago American.

GIRL IS A SLEUTH AT 19.

Miss Margaret Leighton Tells How She Protects Stores and Shoppers.

Philadelphia Evening Ledger.
"Although there is always a man at the head of a detective service of a department store, our force consists of women mainly. Men are so conspicuous in a department store and can't seem to learn how to wander gracefully and saunter about doing nothing," explained the general manager of one of the city's biggest stores.

"A store detective in many instances is a lucky find. Our best woman, Miss Margaret Leighton, was a girl at exchange two years ago. She lost her handbag in the dressing room and in telling me of her loss I recognized in her qualities that make a good detective. Let Miss Leighton speak for herself."

Miss Leighton came into the office, cool and dainty in white blouse and skirt, and wide-brimmed straw hat. Only 19 years old, she admitted, and about five feet in height.

"Eight-tenths of the shoplifters are women," she said: "that is those who are casual offenders. With the professionals the figures are almost the reverse. And after a little practice it's an easy matter to catch them. No matter how experienced the shoplifter, she can't help looking around to see if her neighbors are paying any attention to her. She carries a folded newspaper, an empty bag, and here are two of the cleverest arrangements we have found."

"One was a box, evidently carefully wrapped up in brown paper, and the four corners of one end of the paper were sealed with red wax. But one side of the box opened, and the shoplifter slipped under this flap the articles desired. A more complex tool was a large square box resting on a flat package. The box was easily lifted from its foundation and showed that it had only three sides. This was a particularly useful receptacle for books."

Several boxes of photographs with histories attached are filed in this office. Also weapons—revolvers and knuckles, etc.—taken from the men. Every shoplifter who is sentenced is kept track of and looked out for on his release.

THE BLOT.

The only blot on the national honor of the United States within the lifetime of this generation was put there by Theodore Roosevelt when he "took" Panama.

In this transaction the United States government played a part no less wanton, although less shocking, than the part Germany played in invading Belgium. We too, reduced a sacred treaty to the status of a "scrap of paper," and we had no excuse of war, no pretext of national defense, no justification of military necessity. We are concerned in this matter chiefly with a tender consideration for money, and not our own money at that, but the money of a foreign canal company whose paid lobbyist was

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

COST OF WAR BY MINUTES

AND SECONDS TO ENGLAND.

Mr. Frank Gwin got out his pencil and pad last night and figured some on the cost of war to England alone so far. Assuming that the next British war loan will amount to 250,000,000 pounds as dispatches yesterday indicated, Mr. Gwin found that Great Britain will have spent during this war 45 cents for every second since the birth of Christ nearly nineteen hundred years ago.

There have been 892,021 days since the birth of Christ, 16,776,504 hours or 1,006,590,240 minutes. On the basis of $9,704,248,000 including the proposed credit, England will have averaged $3.64 and a fraction per minute for every minute since the birth of Christ, or 16 cents a second since that time.

And the war, everybody admits, has a long time to run. If it continues another year or more, money will be the cheapest thing in the world in England and the other belligerents and, according to some economists, dollar will not buy as much as five, six or seven dollars will buy now. It will be a sort of painless bankruptcy, economists say. If it is not this sort of bankruptcy, then it might be repudiation, the very thought of which is dismissed by all practical students—Hickory Record.
